

Our 22nd harvest has begun

The 22nd harvest has started at Odfjell and everything looks good so far. There may be slightly fewer kg per hectare, but we'll see. We are immersed in preparations: checking the press, the pumps... everything.

You can feel the switch to harvest mode in the air: in the smells, the weather, the colors, the cooler mornings, the vineyards, the people... Everything is accelerating and the adrenaline is pumping. I love it, even though I know that after a month of harvesting the only thing I want, we want, is to wrap it up.

Orzada Carignan 2017, Best Chilean Carignan in Japan

We are thrilled with the double Gold Medal awarded in the Sakura Japan Women's Wine Awards to our Orzada Carignan 2017, a variety that Odfjell re-launched in Chile in 2001.

In its 17th version, our Carignan is a seductive wine with a complex nose refreshing palate and a pleasing acidity. We are exploring the feminine side of the Carignan, going away from the rustiness of the cepage.

Not only was our Orzada Carignan distinguished. All our wines received excellent recognitions. It is interesting to notice that in its 6th year, the competition's tasting panel consists exclusively of women, including wine writers, sommeliers, and buyers from specialized wine stores.
